Cemetery Walk conjures up past

Nine people will bring Brighton's past personalities back to life on Saturday during the fourth annual Cemetery Walk at Elmwood Cemetery, 14800 Brighton Road. The walk through history is from 1 to 3:30 p.m.

Ken Bromley will represent the rich history of his own family again this year (having played Emmet and Martin Bromley in the past) as his father, Ken Bromley Sr.

Lou Ellen Bromley, credited by Cemetery Manager Aaron Corr as the originator of Brighton's Cemetery Walk, will portray Esther Richardson, who worked for 19 years as cook and dietary supervisor at Brighton Community Hospital.

Bud Scott will talk about William A. Sherart, a Union soldier in the Civil War; Cassidy Wagner will present the story of the Linstrom (Lindstrom) family, Swedish immigrants who ran a boarding house about 100 years ago; Logan and Garron Wagner will represent

Thomas and Donald Krantz, who died in an automobile accident on Sable Boulevard in the 1960s; Dick Hodge will present the story of longtime Brighton High School teacher Russ Wolz; Steve Yarish will talk about longtime Adams County official Ted Waymire; and Ken Bennett will present the story of World War II veteran Fred Wagner and his wife, Molly.

The volunteer presenters are stationed at the gravesite of the person or family they are talking about. The area usually is shaded by a cover and has a table where the presenter can display their items. There are chairs for the public at each table. There also will be a large United States flag over the speakers' areas to help identify them to the public.

Visitors can come and go from each table at any time during the event. The public is free to walk around the cemetery on their own during the event as there are no scheduled tours

Oil-well fire second in past month

Brighton Fire Rescue District was dispatched at 2:12 p.m. Thursday to a structure fire at an oil site near Vestas.

On arrival, firefighters arrived to find large flames and heavy smoke at the well site at 13448 Weld County Road 4. The site is operated by Great Western Oil & Gas Co. The fire was burning in three oil separators.

Brighton Fire worked with the oil company to secure all natural gas valves at the site before putting water on the fire. Firefighters quickly got the fire under control, according to a news release from the Fire District's Natalie Ridderbos. At 5 p.m. crews had two master streams in operation on the fire, and planned to let the oil burn out.

Two workers were onsite when the fire broke out. There were no injuries, and no evacuations to nearby homes, the release stated. Brighton Fire was aided by Fort Lupton, North Metro and South Adams fire departments.

It is the second fire at the oil-well site in the past month. Brighton Fire also responded to a fire at the site on Sept. 20. Brighton Fire will work with operators and regulators to determine why a fire occurred again. The cause is under investigation.

Funeral notices

Edwin "Perry" Miller, 95, of Brighton, died Oct. 10. He was born in Lincoln, Neb., to John H. and Joy (Mills) Miller. He graduated from Lincoln High School in 1940 and attended the University of Nebraska for one year before being drafted into the Air Corps. He served in World War II as a B25 pilot trainer. Perry married Janet Wetzel in 1941 in Lincoln. She preceded him in death in 1971. He married Jewel White in 1977 in Brighton. Perry has lived in Brighton since 1971, an original homeowner of the Van Aire community. He was a member of the Brighton United Methodist Church; Brighton Rotary Club; and the Flying Lunch Bunch. Flying was a lifelong love of Perry's, a pilot since age 16 achieving his goal in 1976 of owning a Staggerwing Beech. He was a member of the Sports Car Club of America. Perry owned and operated Denver Imported Cars for many years. Survivors include his wife, Jewel; daughter Nancy (Michael Biglan) Miller of Brighton; step-children, Gary Jamieson, Diane Boehringer, Cindy Jamieson and David Jamieson; brother Dick (Kaye) Miller of Lincoln; two grandchildren; three step-grandchildren; three great-grandchildren and one step great-grandchild. He also was preceded in death by grandson Case Densmore in 2000. Memorial service 11 a.m.

Wednesday at Brighton United Methodist Church. Memorial contributions can be made in his name to the Suicide Prevention Coalition of Colorado, P.O. Box 17614, Boulder, CO 80308. Obit Tabor-Rice

Herbert Noval Sandifer, 97, of Brighton, died Oct. 7. He was born near Freestone, Texas. Celebration of life service 2 p.m. today at Tabor-Rice Funeral Home. Visitation will precede that service at 1 p.m. Funeral service, Wednesday at First Baptist Church in Teague, Texas. Interment at Salem Cemetery will follow the service. Herb was born on a farm and spent his childhood there. He was a graduate of the Freestone School, served in the Civilian Conservation Corps in Wyoming and then joined the Army Air Corp in 1941. He married Frances Viola Hoyme in 1943. A year after World War II ended, Herb re-enlisted in the Air Force and served for more than 22 years, retiring with the rank of master sergeant. Overseas deployments included the Korean conflict and England. He was honorably discharged from the service at Lowry AFB in Colorado in 1964. After working for Colorado State University and living in Fort Collins, for eight years, in 1972 Herb and Fran "retired" to his parents' farm in Teague, Texas, where he raised cattle. In 2016, Herb and Fran moved to Inglenook in Brighton to be near family. Herb was a 32nd-degree Mason and was honored in 2014 for 70 years of service. He was preceded in death by his son Michael Sandifer. Survivors include his wife, Frances, and sons Lee (Ginny) of Commerce City, and David (Carolyn) of Rochester, Minn.; eight grandchildren and 15 great-grandchildren. Funeral service, 2 p.m. Friday at Tabor-Rice Funeral Home. Full obit Tabor-Rice
