Kreutzer, Mills, Johnston win runoff election

Ken Kreutzer will be the next mayor of Brighton.

The current mayor pro-tem won the runoff election, with 2,580 votes to 1,962 for challenger Wayne Scott, a former mayor-pro-tem whom Kreutzer replaced on the City Council four years ago after Scott completed his second term.

The mayor-elect thanked voters for their support and trust and said, "I look forward to working with the new City Council and the city staff and listening to the citizens to – as I have said – build Brighton together.

"A key piece happened tonight," Kreutzer said, "when (the Council passed) the Downtown Historic District. We can look at our past as we forge our future."

Greg Mills, the new Ward 2 city councilman said, "I'm excited to represent the people of Brighton and my area of town. I look forward to getting to work." He defeated Ferman "Sonny" Maestas, 642 to 415.

In Ward 1, challenger Matt Johnston defeated incumbent Council Member Joan Kniss, 661 votes to 587.
